

1. Intereconomics is published by the German National Library of Economics (ZBW) in cooperation with the Centre for European Policy Studies (CEPS). It publishes papers on areas of economics relevant to European economic policy.
2. Papers should normally be between 25,000 and 40,000 characters in length (incl. spaces), or 3,000 to 6,000 words, including footnotes/endnotes. Submission of a paper will be held to imply that it is original work and that it has not already been published or submitted for publication elsewhere.
3. Papers should be submitted in English. Non-native speakers are advised to have a native speaker make corrections to their manuscript before submitting it. Manuscripts should preferably be written in British English, but American English will also be accepted as long as it is consistently used throughout.
4. Manuscripts should be submitted in electronic form (email attachment), as a file in Word for windows or rich text format. The article should not be broken down into numbered chapters or parts. Papers should be sent to:

Brigitte Preissl Intereconomics/ZBW b.preissl@zbw.eu	or	Derek Kruse Intereconomics/ZBW d.kruse@zbw.eu	or	Felix Roth Intereconomics/CEPS intereconomics@ceps.eu
--	----	---	----	---

6. Tables and figures should be sent in separate files (either one file for tables and one for figures, or a separate file per table and figure). Tables and figures should also be in Excel format. Care should be taken that tables and figures are independent files which can be altered and adjusted by the editors without access to any “background” files which have not been included. Tables and figures should be numbered sequentially in the order in which they are referred to in the text.
7. Quotations must be an exact reproduction of the original in both spelling and punctuation even if this conflicts with the style in the rest of the article. Page numbers must be given. Changes must be indicated: Use brackets to identify insertions; use ellipsis dots (...) to show omissions. Also indicate where emphasis has been added.
8. Endnotes: Notes should be marked clearly in the text at the point of punctuation by superior numbers and listed consecutively at the end of the article. They should not be at the bottom of the relevant page. Bibliographical references should always be given as notes. Separate bibliographies are not published. The notes should take the following form:
 - Name of author (initials or forename(s) followed by surname), underlined and followed by a colon; if there is more than one author their names should be separated by commas; the surnames should be underlined
 - if appropriate: Title of article, followed by a comma and “in:”
 - Title of book, periodical, journal, thesis, followed by a comma. Book titles should be preceded by the author’s or editor’s name followed by a colon
 - if appropriate: Volume and issue number, followed by a comma
 - if appropriate: Place of publication, followed by a space
 - Year of original publication, followed by a comma
 - Publisher (followed by a comma, if page numbers or details of subsequent editions follow, or a full stop)
 - Opening and closing page numbers, followed by a full stop

9. The notes should be set out as follows:

for a book reference:

J. Johnson: Econometric Methods, New York 1963.

or:

Attiat F. Ott, Keith Hartley (eds.): Privatisation and Economic Efficiency, Aldershot 1991, Edward Elgar.

for a book reference where a subsequent edition is cited:

Adam Smith: An Inquiry into the Nature and Causes of the Wealth of Nations, 1776, reprinted in: W.B. Todd (ed.): Glasgow Edition of the Works and Correspondence of Adam Smith, Vol. I, Oxford 1976, Oxford University Press.

for a chapter in an edited volume:

Ronald D. Utt: Privatization in the United States, in: Attiat F. Ott, Keith Hartley (eds.): Privatisation and Economic Efficiency, Aldershot 1991, Edward Elgar, pp. 73-86.

for a journal article:

R. Lipsey, K. Lancaster: General theory of second best, in: Review of Economic Studies, Vol. 24, No. 63, 1992, pp. 11-32.

All articles published in this journal are protected by copyright, which covers the exclusive rights to reproduce and distribute the article (e.g. as offprints), all translation rights as well as the rights to publish the article in any electronic form. No material published in this journal may be reproduced photographically or stored on microfilm, in electronic data bases, video disks, etc., without first obtaining written permission from the publisher.

The use of general descriptive names, trade names, trademarks etc., in this publication, even if not specifically identified, does not imply that these names are not protected by the relevant laws and regulations.